ART

ALPHABET PICTURES

Cut pictures from magazines or draw pictures. Glue letter-shaped macaroni under the pictures to make words that correspond to the pictures.

TACTILE LETTERS

Cut all the letters from cardboard. Let kids work together to paint glue on the letters and then sprinkle them with rice, cornmeal and dried beans. When the glue is dry, shake off the excess and hang the letters on the wall. Encourage the kids to feel the letters and trace them with their fingers.

BEADED NAMES

Write child's name on heavy paper. Set out containers of glue and bowl of beads. Allow kids to dip the beads in glue and place them on the lines of each letter of their name. When glue is dry, let them trace their names with their fingers.

ALPHABET RUBBINGS

Materials: Large piece of cardboard, 2 clothespins, newsprint or other thin paper, tag board letters, crayon pieces with paper removed

1. Clip the newsprint to the cardboard with the clothespins.
2. Have children lift paper, insert several letters and return the cover sheet.
3. Use the crayons on their sides to rub across paper
4. The letters appear on the top sheet.

GAMES

ALPHABET FREEZE

Place one of each of the twenty-six letters of the alphabet on index cards. Put the cards randomly around the area of the carpet you have space to move around. Play a song and have the children move around the letters. When the music stops, the children must quickly find a letter to stand on. Ask each child what letter they are standing on, words that begin with that letter, names of friends in class that begin with that letter, etc.

BODY ALPHABET

See which letter the children can form with their bodies.

MIX-UP

Draw a circle, a square and a triangle on chalkboard. Write 2 letters in each. Ask children a variety of questions... like What shape has the letter "T" in it? Where is the "M"? This will help them recognize letters.

HOT LETTERS

Play like Hot Potato. Sit the children in a circle and pass out cards with one letter on each card. Play music while children pass cards around. When music stops, stop passing cards. Have child name letter on the card he is holding.

WHAT'S ON MY BACK

Use your finger to draw one letter on a child's back. See if he can guess the name of the letter. Encourage them to draw letters on each other's back. With older children, draw words on their backs.

OTHER FUN STUFF

ACROBATIC ALPHABET

Have children form the letters of the alphabet using their bodies.

I KNOW THE ALPHABET SHIRT

Have each parent send in an old white t-shirt for their child to use during the year. The T-Shirt needs to be one or two sizes larger than what the child currently wears. Place a heavy piece of cardboard between the front and back of the T-shirt. On the front of each child's t-shirt, write (with permanent markers) "I know the alphabet." After the child has mastered a letter, have him/her write the letter on his shirt with a permanent marker. When the whole alphabet is learned, the child can sign his/her name on the shirt and wear it home

ALPHIE THE ALPHABET WORM

Take different colored construction paper, trace a plate on 27 sheets the cut them out. Take a big black marker and write the letters of the alphabet on the 26 circles, then with the 27th circle make Alphonse's face. Take a paper hole puncher and punch holes on each end where you want to fasten them together. Then start with Alphonse's face and attach the letter A and so on with yarn or brads. Hang in your room for all to see.

ABC SPOON MATCH-UP

Material – 26 white plastic spoons
26 clear plastic spoons
black marker, red marker

Using a permanent marker, write the alphabet letters in capital form on tops of the white spoons. Use a different color to write the lower-case letters on the clear spoons. Have the children place the clear spoons on top of the white spoons matching the corresponding letters.

ALPHABET FRIENDS

MATERIALS: One or two item for each letter of the alphabet. Mark each item with an alphabet letter tag using masking tape and a marker, and place the around the room.

Large alphabet cards or pieces of poster board showing one letter of the alphabet each.

1. Gather children on the rug or in a circle and teach them the following rhyme: "We are walking on quiet feet. Alphabet friends are what we seek." Tell them that there are alphabet friends all around the room. They will know them by their alphabet letter tags. (show an example.) Each child is to find one alphabet friend and return to the circle.
2. Let the children search while reciting the rhyme. Give assistance when needed.
3. When all children have returned to the circle, hold up one alphabet card and ask all children whose objects have matching alphabet tags to stand up and bring their items to you. Name the letter and object and display them together.
4. Continue the game until you have gone through all the letters and collected all the objects.

ALPHABET SOUP

Label a supply of Ping-Pong balls with one letter each. Put all of the balls in a large pot. Place the pot, a soup bowl, and a large ladle or scoop where children can explore. Have child scoop a ladleful of soup (Ping-Pong balls) into the bowl and then name the letter on each of the balls. Vary the activity by having a child alphabetize the letters he has chosen or name something that begins with each letter's sound.

ALPHABET SOUP

1. Using capital letters, print the name of each child on the outside of an envelope.
2. Cut small circles out of construction paper.
3. Print one letter of the child's name inside each circle.
4. Place the circles with the letters for each child's name inside the envelopes with their names on them.
5. Cut the remaining construction paper into the shape of spoons or bowls.
6. Gather children and give them envelope with their name on it. Have them open the envelope and say the letters.
7. Give each child a cutout of a bowl or spoon and let the paste the letters of their name in the correct order.

ALPHABET BOOK

Option 1: Have students each choose a letter of the alphabet to decorate. Then combine the pages to create one class book.

Option 2: Have students add one picture to each letter of the alphabet. The pictures must begin the correct letter sound. Write the word below their pictures.

NAME SCRAMBLE

Have children use letter cards to spell their name. Then have the children scramble up the letters and reform their names.

ALPHABET CORNER

In an area of your room set up an alphabet corner. Stock it with plastic letters for word building, alphabet blocks, alphabet puzzles, alphabet stamps, alphabet books, tape recorder and alphabet song cassette, alphabet flash cards, blackboards or dry-erase boards, chalk, markers, pencils, crayons, clay, glue, scissors and stencils.

ALPHABET CATERPILLAR

Write each letter of the alphabet on a pre-cut circle. Mix up the circles on a table. Have children create a caterpillar by placing the caterpillar's body parts in alphabetical order. Place wiggle eyes and antennae on the caterpillar's face.

ALPHABET FLASHLIGHT

This is a great naptime alphabet review activity. With your room darkened, use a flashlight to "write" a letter on the ceiling for child to identify. Then give child a turn to use the flashlight.

PIPE CLEANER LETTER FUN

Use pipe cleaners and alphabet letter cards. (capital and lowercase) Have child pick an alphabet card out of the pile. Ask child to form the letter out of pipe cleaners. Pipe cleaners can be reused.

SANDBOX WRITING

Partially fill a shoebox with sand. Provide child with different types of writing utensils such as: unsharpened pencils, plastic straws, plastic knives, small sticks etc. Have child choose a writing utensil and write a letter in the sand. It is fun to erase the sand letters. This sandbox stores easily. Just put the lid back on and put it away.

ALPHABET COLLAGE

Have children create letter collages by finding, cutting out, and gluing oversize letters from magazines ads and packaging materials on a piece of construction paper.

NAME PUZZLES

Have child print his or her first name on an envelope and on a blank word card in large, well-spaced letters. Children cut their name cards into separate letters and store the letters in the envelope. Children can count the letters in their name, and play games with a partner. For example, they can put all the letters from both names face down and mix them up. Partners take turns choosing a letter. If the letter is in their name, they keep the letter; otherwise, they give it to their partner for his or her name.

FANCY LETTERS

Have children write a few large letters of the alphabet on a sheet of drawing paper. Then have them use paints, markers, and different collage materials to form the letters in as many ways as possible.

LETTERS, LETTERS

Display an alphabet chart near child's work area. Demonstrate how to roll a lump of clay between the palms to form a long, narrow "rope." Have child look at the alphabet chart and then form ropes into capital and lowercase letters.

SHAKE THE ALPHABET JAR

Write capital letters A through Z and lowercase letters a - z on separate pieces of masking tape. Tape a capital letter on one side of a button and the corresponding lowercase letter on the other side. Drop the letters in a plastic jar that has a lid. Have your child shake the jar, remove the lid, and take a button out. Have child identify the letter on both sides of the button, saying the word capital or lowercase.

ALPHABET TOSS

Tape several plastic or paper cups to the floor, close together. Inside each cup, write a letter of the alphabet. To play, have child toss a button or a counter into one of the cups. Child then reads the letter and says a word that begins with the sound the letter stands for.

SHAKE IT UP

Write alphabet letters on pieces of masking tape. Place one piece of tape inside the bottom of each cup in an egg carton. Have child put a button or counter in the egg carton, close the lid, then shake. Next, have child open the lid and look to see where the button landed. Have child name the letter, say the sound that the letter stands for, and name a word that begins with that letter.
