

The Abilene Police Officer's Association Endorses Candidates

The Abilene Police Officer's Association (APOA) is announcing its endorsement and support of three candidates who are running for office in the upcoming election. The APOA is endorsing Michael Bob Starr for U.S. House of Representative District 19, Harriet Haag for County Court at Law 2, and Brad Birchum for County Commissioner Precinct 3.

The APOA believes each of these candidates will best support the interests and values of the Abilene Police Department and Law Enforcement Officers in Taylor County. The APOA is committed to proactive community involvement and building relationships with community members seeking to hold elected positions in our city, county and state. The Abilene Police Officers Association met with several candidates running for various elected positions. In January, the Association hosted a forum for the candidates to speak to our members and determine who we believe will be the best person for the job. The Abilene Police Officers Association Political Action Committee voted among its members and chose to endorse these three candidates for office.

"It is our belief these candidates will serve the community of Abilene well when elected to office." – said Adam Becker, APOA President

Sincerely,

The Abilene Police Officer's Association
